Leadership

Solutions

As a solutions provider, DGT looks at each client's needs individually. This is contrary to the "cookie-cutter" approach of the sales driven value-added reseller, who pushes product lines on customers regardless of their needs.

DGT has formed partnerships with vendors who provide industry leading product lines that fit our strategic systems development process. We believe that our relationship with Hewlett-Packard and Microsoft offers our clients a broad product offering that addresses all of our their needs.

At DGT, we believe that our clients do not need to be computer experts to utilize the newest network technology, but do need a source that will continue to provide them with honest answers and information. We work with our clients and never confuse or intimidate them with the technology. You can trust that DGT will work with you and provide you with the solutions that you expect.

DGT works in a variety of IT support environments. We have worked as sole administrative and support as well as together with existing IT staff.
